

PENRITH CITY LOCAL BUSINESS AWARDS

Amy Richardson won last year's Youth Award at the Local Business Awards.

Hollywood has the Oscars and the music industry has the Grammys – but for Penrith City businesses, the annual night of nights is Wednesday, November 1.

That's the date of the 2023 Penrith City Local Business Awards.

Precedent Productions Managing Director and Awards founder Steve Loe said there's no doubt that local business owners and their staff work hard to provide the best possible service to their customers.

"That's why the annual Penrith City Local Business Awards presentation night is always such a popular event," he said.

"It's a glittering event that gives finalists a chance to dress up and take a break so they can enjoy an evening of entertainment, good food, relaxed chat and celebration with their colleagues and people from other businesses from around the district."

Loe said being a finalist at the Penrith City Local Business Awards presentation night was an enormous achievement.

"It's also a chance for business people and their teams to reflect on their successes with a fun night out," he said.

"Making it to the finalist presentation is a great reflection on their efforts and everyone is always extremely proud to be there."

"All finalists in each category are announced, with their picture shown on the big screen.

"It's heart-warming to hear the deafening cheers from the crowd as everyone celebrates the achievement of all the businesses in the room."

Today is the day when nominees for the 2023 Penrith City Local Business Awards discover if they have made it as a finalist.

Loe said the high quality of all nominees had made the job of judges incredibly difficult.

"The Western Weekender, which has supported the awards as media partner for many years, will announce the finalists in each category with a special feature in today's paper," he said.

"This is a chance for customers and clients to see if the businesses they nominated have become finalists."

The Penrith City Local Business Awards are only possible with the support of Presenting Partner, Commonwealth Bank and Major Partners, NOVA Employment and Western Sydney Conference Centre and support partners, White Key Marketing, Penrith Valley Chamber of Commerce, BxNetworking, Southlands Shopping Centre, Nepean Village and Penrith Homemaker Centre.

"It's with great pleasure that I congratulate all the finalists on their achievements, on behalf of the Penrith City Local Business Awards," Loe said.

"I would also like to thank the Penrith City community for the huge support that they continue to show for their local businesses through the Awards every year.

"Without them, these outstanding businesses would receive the recognition which they deserve."

2023 FINALIST AUTOMOTIVE SERVICES

Daniel has been a panel beater for 20 plus years and has been working on cars since he was a young kid, growing up with his dad and uncle in the shed learning everything he could about fixing them. Cars have always been Daniel's passion especially the old classic ones. Our business first started in 2018 with a one-man band - Just Daniel on his own as a hobby while working elsewhere but quickly grew with having one factory to now three. Within this time his wife, Laura started in the office and also helping on the floor and long-time family friend Matt coming to work with us as our spray painter. Our customers have become like family and we have met some amazing people throughout owning our business. It has been a lot of hard work but very rewarding at the same time.

Being a data-driven advocacy, we are able to provide sound purchase advice to our clients focused on facts and not opinions.
